

Sustainability Goes Mainstream... but where next?

Guy Battle | Battle McCarthy

Please join Haworth for an exclusive conversation with Guy Battle, a founding partner of world renowned Battle McCarthy Consulting Engineers. Guy's talk addresses delivering sustainability in the global architectural arena, emphasizing the importance of collaboration with architects and designers at the conceptual stage to explore a wide range of creative possibilities. This approach has enabled Battle McCarthy to design numerous pioneering schemes such as the first vertical urban wind farm in New York's Freedom Tower and the LA courthouse to achieve LEED platinum.
